ed Fence-Making Machines.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FRANKTON, Ind., Oct. 15 .- J. D. Stoddard, who is lying in St. John's Hospital at Anderson, is a man with whom fate has dealt unkindly. Fifteen years ago he was a man of wealth and built the three-story mittee desired, nor all entitled to, still the block known as the Stoddard block, the committee felt that the association may most imposing structure in this city. He was also interested in the manufacture of a lawn fence, and was one of the origisented by James A. Willock, of Pittsburg, nators of the Hoosier wire fence, now extensively made in this city. But he was caught in the financial crash of 1893. He was forced to sell his stock in the company. mortgaged his property, and finally traded for worthless Southern land in order to reserve anything.

Since then he has spent every day and many wakeful nights in the building of a machine for making fence. In a little frame building on the outskirts of the city he eats, sleeps, lives in solitude, with no company save his ideal machine. Every cent above his meager living goes into this machine, and he has been thus living for ten years, happy in his dreams of a return of prosperity. He lives on the small pittance sent by his son, who is in the West, and he oftentimes goes hungry in order to use the money for a wheel or something that will add to the completeness of his pet machine. For months he has had the machine in a state of completeness, and he has scoured this and neighboring cities for capitalists that will help him out, and many persons have visited him in his shanty and encouraged him in the progress of the machine, but no one would take hold of it The committee on nominations held a without a practical demonstration. ATTEMPTS TO LOOT BANKS AT DAN-VILLE AND TIRO, O.

Burglars Attacked by Citizens, but Not Captured-Bank of Rudd, Ia., Robbed of $3,000.

MOUNT VERNON, O., Oct. 15 .- One of the most daring attempts at bank robbery in the history of Knox county occurred at Danville early this morning. Five charges of dynamite were used and the bank building, as well as the vault wrecked. The explosions aroused the citizens and a fight took place, during which the thieves, of whom there were eight, took flight. They were followed to Buckeye City, where they had vehicles in readiness and drove hurriedly away. Pursuit was at once taken up until Adrian's woods were reached, where the vehicles were abandoned by the robresidences and $36 for business houses, ir- deaths have occurred, two victims dying bers, who sought cover. The woods and all roads in the neighborhood have been placed under guard and it is expected that all the men will be captured. During the flight a ing, broke down, and they were forced to abandon it, riding away on the horses. In the buggy was found a large quantity of chickens, potatoes and edibles of various kinds, which is taken to indicate that the gang intended to hide themselves in the thick woods somewhere and camp out until the excitement incident to the robbery had died down. At least one of the robbers was wounded in the fight. Prof. C. W. Waughtel, of Danville, was returning on foot from a neighboring village about 1 a. m., and as he passed Seneft's blacksmith shop he was held up and taken inside, where his hands were tied After the gang had secured what tools they wanted he was forced to accompany them into the bank and witness the robbery. He was not released until found by citizens after the robbers had fled. Banker Wolfe

Fight on the Streets. TIRO, O., Oct. 15 .- A gang of seven robher birth. There were present children, bers made an unsuccessful attempt to blow formed a conductor for the powerful electhe Farmers' and Citizens' Bank here early tric current. this morning. Four charges of dynamite failed to crack the strong box. The citizens were aoused by the noise of the explosion and by the ringing of church bells, and a fight took place in the streets. The robbers went to Daugherty's livery stable where they bound the man in charge and stole two rigs in which they escaped. One of these was deserted near Galion and the other at Ontario. The latter bore marks of blood, showing that the aim of the citizens had been good. Bloodhounds have been secured, and are on the trail of the bandits. Farmers all over the country have been aroused, and are assisting in the search. A reward of $200 has been offered for the arrest of the gang. James Mitchener, a citizen of this place was slightly wounded in the fight, receiving
